FLOW OF GRAIN BY CHURCHILL COMES TO END

Hudson Bay Route Yields Traffic to Lower Great Lakes Rates

Storage Charges Help Swing Scale; Prairie Men Pass Resolutions

Canadian Press
Montreal, Aug. 31.—Imposition of storage charges at Churchill has made it unprofitable to ship wheat from the Hudson Bay port hereafter this season, according to Thomas Harling and Sons, shipping agents, who have been associated with chartering nearly all grain vessels to leave there for Great Britain and Europe.

In order to promote shipping from the northern port, the Dominion Government realized storage charges for the first year of its operation, the shipping firms said here today, but that period has expired and future shipments will be faced with this additional charge.

All grain carried out this year had been stored in Churchill over the winter, it was explained, and all contracts for shipping it had been let. Two ships were now on the way to Churchill, and when they left for the Atlantic the grain bins at the Hudson Bay port would be empty.

BUSINESS ENDS
The addition to the storage charge made it cheaper to ship down the Great Lakes to Montreal, the agents said, and no further business out of Churchill was in sight, coincident with the expiration of the Dominion Government's undertaking to provide free storage, the rates from the head of the Great Lakes to Montreal had jumped from 2½ cents to 4 cents per bushel.

Just how much storage charges would amount to on the average would be difficult to estimate, the agents said, because the length of storage had to be taken into account. But their effect on the direction of export was unquestionable.

SURPRISE VOICED

Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—Prairie grain growers, after a half-century of seeking for a low rate northern shipping outlet for their product, marvelled today at reports the three-year-old port of Churchill would close up early this season because grain is being moved overseas more cheaply by the longer Great Lakes route. Virtually no grain is moving by rail to the nearby empty bins on the Hudson Bay shore.

BOYS PRAISE THEIR RESCUERS

Associated Press
Pittsburgh, N.Y., Aug. 31.—Three Boy Scouts who clung for their lives to a tiny ledge 400 feet up on the rocky side of Wallface Mountain, told today how they were saved from death after two days of privation and peril.

The scouts—Robert Glenn, Tyler Grey and William La Due—were near exhaustion and a probable fatal plunge down the perpendicular cliff into a gorge when rescuers, in a thrilling feat of mountaineering, hauled them to safety at the end of a 225-foot rope late yesterday.

Lifted to a higher ledge, they were brought down along a wild Adirondack trail. To-day they were recovering at their Pittsburgh homes from the effects of hunger and exposure to freezing winds.

Local Boys Super Craftsmen

Through their superb craftsmanship these two boys, Carson Peckhold, left, and Alex Packford, participated in the prize in the Dominion-wide model coach-building contest conducted in Victoria by The Victoria Times in cooperation with the Fisher Body Coachworks Co. Last year, Peckhold won the junior championship for B.C., which carried with it $100 in gold and a trip to the Toronto Exhibition. This year he graduated into the senior class and Peckhold arose to win the junior honors which carried with it $100 in gold and a trip to the Chicago Exhibition. Packford's coach was not successful in gaining the major senior prize in British Columbia, but he secured three craftsmanship prizes which totaled $75. Peckhold graduates into the senior class next year. In front of each of the boys is the cup presented to them by The Victoria Times for their outstanding work in building the Napoleonic coaches. These boys spent about 2,000 hours in making the intricate and beautifully-finished coaches.

Sacrifices At First, Later Gains on Wheat Pact, Says Bennett

Premier, Back in Canada From England, Says Dominion at First Must Give Ground Under Grain Agreement Signed in London

By Frank Flaherty, Canadian Press Staff Writer
Murray Bay, Que., Aug. 31.—Without doubt the World Economic Conference will recognize either in whole or in part, Premier R. B. Bennett declared here today on his return to Canada after spending three months in Great Britain attending the world gathering and presiding at the Wheat Conference.

Mr. Bennett expressed pleasure at getting back to Canada and declared he was hopeful of important results from the wheat agreement. It would mean sacrifices on Canada's part for the moment, he said, but in the long run would be of benefit to Canadian wheat growers.

SOVIET LUMBER
A proposal to ban Soviet Russian lumber from Great Britain under article 21 of the Imperial Conference agreements was still under consideration, but no decision had been reached, Premier Bennett said. Discussion of the lumber question, of particular interest to Canadian exporters seeking markets in Great Britain, had been going on for two months, he stated.

Efforts To Rescue Wild Deer From Ledge Fail

Buck Has Been Trapped on Precipice in Watkins Park, New York State, Since Landslide Occurred Six Days Ago

Associated Press
Watkins Glen, N.Y., Aug. 31.—A wild deer's innate distrust of man today threatened to defeat efforts to rescue an eleven-point buck from a hazardous ledge in Watkins Glen State Park, where he has been trapped for six days. Although he humbly trots back and forth along his narrow runway, unconcerned while scores of visitors, attracted by his predicament, watch him from the opposite side of the gorge a few feet away, his fear of man has blocked every plan of rescue.

MOSLEYITES EYE EMPIRE

Fascists in Britain Try to Form Swastika League in Commonwealth

Hope to See Groups in Canada, But Bar Out Rioters in Toronto

By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Aug. 31.—The British Union of Fascists is planning a swastika league of the Empire. First steps toward this new union are being taken in negotiations between Sir Oswald Mosley, the wealthy fascist leader, and Col. Eric Campbell, leader of the Australian "New Guard."

Campbell, it is claimed, will also speak for South Africa and New Zealand, and it is further announced "a Fascist movement is now being formed in Canada and is likely to join up."

The new organization, which represents "a very powerful combination of forces," is the British fascists' statement.

SWASTIKA GROUPS OUT
But while the British Union of Fascists sent emissaries to Canada to line up a Canadian fascist body, it disavows any connection with the "swastika" rioters in various parts of the Dominion, notably Toronto.

"We understand there are five separate fascist organizations in Canada," the British fascist headquarters told the Canadian press today. "We have not recognized any of them nor do we intend to recognize any organization which advocates the use of physical force. We propose to bring about changes by constitutional means."

"When the times comes—it will probably be five years yet—we shall have a parliamentary majority. When we have a parliamentary majority and head the government we shall likely proceed by order-in-council. But we are against physical force. The only exception we make is that if we are attacked by communists we shall certainly meet force with force."

GUARDS, SALUTES AND SWORDS
The British Union of Fascists is increasingly active. In Regent Street, the centre of London's shopping district, they have opened a branch and in Chelsea's quiet haunts they have established a "cavalry" club. There a former women's college has been transformed into a "brown house" for the fascists.

Wandering over this building today, one was struck by the extent of the transformation. Black-shirted young men stood guard by the entrance, saluting with the fascist salute. Halls which once echoed to nothing more adventurous than Latin declensions now ring with words of command. The doors are lettered in gold military style with this or that "OO."

Cold as steel about as though preparations are under way for a siege. A blackshirt modestly practised sword exercises before a full-length mirror.

"Why all this military organization if you do not intend to use force?" the writer questioned.

"It's just our defence," was the reply. "We have a building worth £70,000. We shall defend it, if we have to, to the end."

VERNON ASSIZES

Vernon, B.C., Aug. 31 (Canadian Press).—Assize court sessions, adjourned June last on a technicality, will open here September 6. Two cases to be heard are those of Hitoaki Hamasaki, charged with murdering Wong Eui, a Kelowna man, in November last, and Arthur H. Evans, charged with unlawful association in connection with mining activities at Princeton.

Candidates nominated to date:
Liberals 11, Talmie Unionists 4, Bowerites 11, C.C.F. 30, Independent C.C.F. 3, Independent Labor 1. Total 114.

The candidates' thermometer, what the printers call the black face index paragraph at the top of this column, is due for a sharp rise now November 2 is announced as the election date.

Political Paragraphs called the tune yesterday. For some weeks we have suggested the election would be held early in November and yesterday we named the date, November 2.

Political row was not widely excited at the announcement in The Times early in November has been generally accepted as the date. But there was speculation as to how long Premier Talmie and his cabinet will remain on the floor in British Columbia's greatest and world-breaking governmental marathon which may yet continue for a month or two after the lease on the hall has expired.

One chap has already won an election bet. The date of the election was being talked over. "Premier Talmie hasn't announced it yet," he said. "Where have you been the last twenty-four hours?" he was asked. He stuck by his statement. A bet was made. He won. Premier Talmie did not announce the election date. Attorney-General Pooley told the bet that the winner of the bet put it. Premier Talmie was in Vancouver, attending the exhibition and hobnobbing with his old friends the bulls.

SEARCH ENDED
Winnipeg, Aug. 31 (Canadian Press).—Search for the bodies of Herman Hint and Raymond Barker, believed victims of a triple drowning tragedy in Lake Winnipeg within the last ten days, had been relinquished today. With only a small rowboat in which to cover a large area, searchers agreed further effort was useless unless they were better equipped.

British Golf Star Defeats Charlotte Glutting in U.S. Women's Championship

Virginia Van Wie, Defending Champ, Helen Hicks and Miss Orcutt Winners

Exmoor, Highland Park, Ill., Aug. 31.—Enid Wilson, champion of England, and Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, United States titleholder, reached the semi-finals of the women's golf championship today and will meet to-morrow.

The international duel of the champions was set as Miss Wilson defeated Charlotte Glutting, West Orange, N.J., 2 and 1, and Miss Van Wie turned back a spirited challenge by Mrs. Leona Cheney, San Gabriel, Calif., 1 up.

Helen Hicks, Inwood, N.Y., and Margaret Orcutt, Harnsworth, N.J., reached the other semi-finals match. Miss Hicks defeated Lucille Robson, Des Moines, 4 and 3, and Miss Orcutt, coming back to win three of the final five holes, with a medal finish of thirty-six, eliminated Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, 1 up.

Put Bounty On Mountain Lions
Attorney-General Moves to Curb Menace of Bold Marauders From Hills

Settlers and Tourists Report Many Close Calls: Farmers Suffer Loss of Animals

Mountain lions have swept down from the higher wild regions into the settlements of Vancouver Island in such numbers that Attorney-General Pooley today had a $10 bounty imposed on the head of each of these marauders. By this bounty it is hoped to lure hunters to the areas where these panthers are worst and thus decimate them.

It is expected that the bounty will send to the hills not only a number of professional hunters, but will also help to attract to the hunt many big game sportsmen from other parts who are anxious to get some fine panther heads and skins for their trophy rooms.

The dry summer season has driven the cougars from the mountain tops to the lower levels in search of food, with the result that their invasion of the settled areas has caused more alarm and damage than for years. Besides slaying deer, which the government is hunting, they have been killing sheep and cattle.

At Least Four Will Seek Premiership Of This Province
Liberal, Socialist and Two Conservatives Will Lead Parties

Greatest Nomination on Record Assured For Polling November 2

As the race stands at present British Columbia electors will choose between a Liberal, a Socialist and two Conservatives for the next Premier of British Columbia when they cast their votes at the B.C. general election on November 2. Before nomination day on October 13 there is a possibility that from a record number of candidates another leader will emerge to guide one, or a combination of other factors in the contest.

Only one of the four stands out clearly for the party he represents. T. D. Pattullo makes his appeal to the country as the leader of the Liberal party on a clearly announced Liberal platform with nothing to cloud the issue.

W. A. Pritchard, former Reeve of Burnaby, is a Socialist of long standing, who has sought parliamentary honors as a Socialist, but in this contest makes his bid for the premiership as leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation.

Premier Talmie, nominally Conservative Premier, makes his appeal for return to office on a Union Government appeal.

W. J. Bower, K.C., a former Conservative Premier, comes out from his ten years of retirement to seek leadership of the British Columbia government again as head of a Non-Partisan Movement.

MR. PATTULLO
Mr. Pattullo has been an outstanding figure in the British Columbia Legislature for seventeen years. When he first entered the House as member for Prince Rupert, which constituency he has represented ever since, he was named Minister of Lands, and held that portfolio until the defeat of the Liberal Government in 1928. Since then he has been Leader of the Opposition in the Legislature and, in a position calling for a greater familiarity with every department of government than it is essential a minister of one department need possess, Mr. Pattullo made a great impression by the composure and calmness of his grasp on every detail of government, as a financial critic, by his administrative knowledge and his unflinching attention to his duties in the House. In a role testing his qualifications for the premiership, he has shown himself to be a man of great future for trade within the Empire.

F. W. Field, Whose Office Is in Montreal, Sees Big Future For Trade Within Empire
Victoria has as a visitor, F. W. Field, senior trade commissioner for Great Britain in Canada. After spending several days in Vancouver, he arrived here this afternoon.

Mr. Field, whose office is at Montreal, is in the west on his annual tour of the Dominion, in the course of which he visits the other British trade commissioners' offices at Toronto and Winnipeg.

A great future for trade within the Empire was predicted by Mr. Field, providing the business men co-operate, as he sees every avenue of their doing. Expressing every sympathy with the "Buy in Canada" slogan, Mr. Field stated the nations must realize in their desire to help home industries that no country could live unto itself.

"We must buy in the markets in which we wish to sell," he said. "The selling can't be all on one side."

Mr. Field found business conditions in British Columbia relatively improved over last year and quite as good as in other parts of Canada. The short crop on the prairies, however, he said, would have a marked effect on the total purchasing power of the country this year.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—More than half the three months' sentence imposed on James J. Harpell for criminal libel has been served. The Gazette, Montreal publisher, to be released on ticket of leave to-morrow, was convicted of libelling Thomas B. Macaulay, president of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada. The libels were contained in Harpell's publication, The Journal of Commerce, and in a book written by him.

NEW POWER PLANT AT ROYAL CITY
New Westminster, Aug. 31.—The Westminster Paper Company Limited will undertake construction of a new power plant at a cost of approximately $50,000. It will generate electricity for lighting and power purposes as well as steam for manufacturing processes. At present the company has a steam generating plant, but purchases its electrical energy. The new plant will be erected by the Dominion Construction Company Limited of Vancouver.

The annual meeting of the stockholders authorized a stock dividend of 4 per cent, payable quarterly and commencing October 1. This is the same dividend as was paid last year. The company has restored the wage scale existing prior to February 1, when a 10 per cent temporary reduction was made. Approximately 100 employees are on the payroll of the paper mill.

OKANAGAN APPLE POOL IS FORMED

Vernon, B.C., Aug. 31.—Plans which await final ratification are about complete for a pool of between 70 and 75 per cent of the Okanagan Valley apple crop. The Associated Growers, Sales Service, Crestland Fruit Company, B.C. Orchard, Crown Fruit Company and McLean and Fitzpatrick are reputed to be the shipping firms that will participate. The purpose is to stabilize the deal so far as it proves possible. It is said Major M. E. McNamee has been agreed on as umpire and that through his office the pooling will be done.

The prices, which have now reached fair level, are falling off the trees and already there is an estimate of a reduction through this cause will run about 15 per cent. In some localities the drop is much greater than in others, but it is said to be fairly general throughout the Vernon, Kelowna and Winfield districts. Generally it is attributed to root injury last fall. The marketing will start next week.

Duchess, Transparent and Red Astrakhan apples are over and Wealthies are moving out of Vernon and Kamloops. Salmon Arm is not ready yet. Most of these are going in bulk or as household. The price on bulk that the sharpshooters aim at is $20 the ten. Households moved about ten days ago. Those going now are of good quality and fair size. About 2,000 to 3,000 boxes are moving daily and a very few going wrapped.

One thousand miles along a zigzag rail-line north Winnipeg, the model seaport was built on the Rocky Bay coast because it gave the prairies a harbor only 175 miles farther from Liverpool than Montreal—and it is possible to dump grain cars into the 2,500,000-bushel elevator and run the grain directly into ocean-going ships. Now it is estimated the seven cargoes loaded this season so far and the loads for two ships en route will leave the elevator empty.

DATE EXTENDED
Pleas made by growers and shippers brought the longer export season this year. Insurance companies responded by extending the date—when ships could leave the port without paying additional insurance on hulls and machinery from September 30, last year, close, until October 7. With five weeks of the period still remaining, only 6,000 bushels were en route to-day from inland points for export.

In an official statement, the Saskatchewan Pool Elevators Limited declared exporters were unwilling to use the Hudson Bay port because of the "lower charges" of the St. Lawrence route.

Lake tonnage, said Port William reports, was being chartered at the lowest rates for the season.

W. J. Ward, M.P.P., Dauphin, Man., told a gathering at Yorkton, Sask., that Manitoba and Saskatchewan must unite to protect their interests and the millions of dollars invested in the port at Churchill.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED
The Pas, Man., Aug. 31.—Urging the Federal Government to impress on producers and shippers the need for immediate use of facilities of the Hudson Bay Railway and Churchill terminal, a resolution unanimously passed by more than 120 tourists who just returned from the bay post was stirred to Premier Bennett and Hon. J. J. Manion, Minister of Railways, to-day.

The present abnormal condition of rates should not be allowed to destroy the usefulness of this public utility," the resolution said.

Another resolution passed at the meeting here was sent to prairie grain shippers, urging the ship over this route a fair proportion of their wheat earmarked for export this year.

The meeting was presided over by J. H. Howden, of Neepawa, Man., and H. S. Taylor of Minnesota, Man., acted as secretary, and the resolutions paid high tribute to the efficient operation of the railway and improvements made

EAT MORE BEEF URGES PREMIER

Appeal Made By Dr. Tolmie at Livestock Conference in Vancouver

Vancouver, Aug. 31.—"Eat more beef and less salad," was the advice given by Dr. H. T. Tolmie at Hastings Park in the course of a conference today between livestock breeders and Hon. Robert Weir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture.

"I have recently returned from a visit to ranchers in the Chilcotin country," he said. "When you consider the fight they have with drought, grasshoppers, and the other problems which harass ranchers these days in the interior, it makes your heart sick to see them sell a splendid 900-pound steer at 3 1/2 cents a pound."

"It was a beef diet which built the British Empire," continued the Premier. "We should eat more of it here and should demand Cariboo and Chilcotin beef whenever possible."

The British Columbia Beef Cattle Growers' Association headed the delegations which conferred with Mr. Weir. Matt Hassen, secretary and manager of the Interior Provincial Exhibition Association, requested the Dominion department organize and establish a range experimental station in British Columbia along the lines of that at Manlyberries, Alta.

"We found during our visit throughout the interior that overgrazing has been allowed in the range country," stated Premier Tolmie, "and an experimental station would aid greatly in determining the best methods of handling the range. We have land at Tranquille which the provincial government would consider turning over to the Dominion for the purposes of a range experimental station."

Mr. Weir said he would consider the suggestion. He saw no reason why such a station might not be established in British Columbia.

Beef growers urged the Dominion government extend to British Columbia continued assistance in furnishing bullocks to farmers, in stamping out of bovine tuberculosis and in promoting the general health of animals in this province.

Another important request of the beef growers was that the Dominion government should make possible once more the shipment of feeder steers from the Canadian northwest to the United States for finishing.

AT AGASSIZ
That the minister approve of the suggestion to put a herd of registered Guernsey cattle in the stables at the Agassiz Experimental Farm was suggested by Cyril Roberts of Bertha, speaking on behalf of the B.C. Guernsey Breeders' Association.

The British Columbia horse breeders were represented by Alex. Davies of Ladner and W. H. Hicks of Agassiz. The Agassiz Experimental Farm was given to owners of stallions used in the prairie provinces of $5 per colt be extended to British Columbia.

To this proposal Mr. Weir said he saw no good reason why all provinces should not be treated alike.

Oliver C. Evans, representing the B.C. Jersey Breeders' Association, and P. H. Breder, representing the B.C. Holstein Breeders' Association, asked the minister reconsider his ruling regarding grants to Class A farms, where certain provisions had been made regarding the breeding of cattle.

They will confer further with the minister regarding this subject prior to his return to the east.

SHIP BOUND IN
Ottawa, Aug. 31.—The radio branch of the Marine Department reported the Gardena, possibly the last ship to load grain at Churchill this season, was 219 miles from Cape Chidley at the eastern end of Hudson Strait at 12 noon, E.D.T. to-day. It is inward bound to the north-east.

Outward bound, the steamship Pennwynd was reported twenty-six miles from Resolution Island.

Sacrifices at First, Later Gains on Wheat Pact, Says Bennett

TO MONTREAL
The Prime Minister was looking fit and well and was eager to plunge again into Canadian domestic affairs. This morning he was scheduled to address a board of trade dinner in Montreal.

It had been expected Mr. Bennett would remain on board the liner Empress of Britain until it reached Quebec, but he decided to go ashore here to save time.

Mr. Bennett could not suggest a date or place for the resumption of the session, but he indicated that he would take place when the United States had so adjusted its domestic conditions as to permit it to consider world problems more intently.

AT TWO CONFERENCES
During his three-month absence in England, the Premier headed Canada's delegation at the World Economic Conference, enjoyed a short holiday at a seaside resort, conferred with representatives of the United Kingdom and other empire governments on the working-out of the Empire trade pact and presided at the meetings of the World Trade Conference in London.

An agreement among the leading exporting and importing countries to stabilize the wheat market.

PASSES THROUGH QUEBEC
Quebec, Aug. 31.—Premier Bennett, who landed from the liner Empress of Britain at Murray Bay several hours earlier, reached Quebec by motor car to-day. Accompanied by Hon. Maurice Dupre, Solicitor-General, the Prime Minister went immediately to his private railroad car. He was to go to Montreal by train to address a board of trade dinner in the evening before proceeding to Ottawa.

"I'm very glad to be back again in Canada," Mr. Bennett declared on his arrival here. "I am glad to say to you," he added, "that amongst the people of the other nations of the world that I have been privileged to meet during the last few weeks, there has been a singular unanimity as to their appreciation of Canada."

"Formerly many of them seemed to think they were better off than we, living in Canada, were, but to-day many of them seem to think Canada the most favored country in the world."

"That is a singular tribute to the conditions our people have been able to obtain," the Prime Minister said, "and the hope that under Providence we may be able to experience a general recovery throughout our own country, as it is now evident we have improved conditions throughout the world."

TRENTO, ITALY, Aug. 31.—Seven mountain climbers were killed yesterday and Tuesday in the Italian Dolomites, according to reports received here to-day.

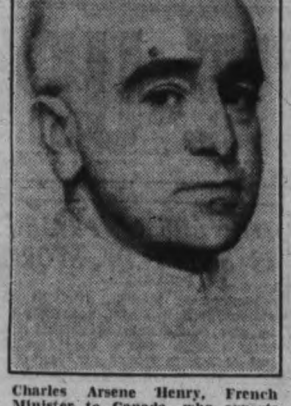

Five were Germans, one of them a woman, one was a Czech and the other an Italian priest.

EARTH SHOCKS ARE RECORDED
Washington, Aug. 31.—An earthquake which centred approximately 1,500 miles from Washington in an uncharted direction, was reported to-day by the Georgetown University seismological observatory.

The movement began at 10:30 p.m. E.S.T. yesterday evening, reached its maximum proportions at 10:13 p.m. and ended at 10:30 p.m. It was thought it might have been centred in the West Indies or Central America.

LAND AVAILABLE
"We found during our visit throughout the interior that overgrazing has been allowed in the range country," stated Premier Tolmie, "and an experimental station would aid greatly in determining the best methods of handling the range. We have land at Tranquille which the provincial government would consider turning over to the Dominion for the purposes of a range experimental station."

Mr. Weir said he would consider the suggestion. He saw no reason why such a station might not be established in British Columbia.

Beef growers urged the Dominion government extend to British Columbia continued assistance in furnishing bullocks to farmers, in stamping out of bovine tuberculosis and in promoting the general health of animals in this province.

Another important request of the beef growers was that the Dominion government should make possible once more the shipment of feeder steers from the Canadian northwest to the United States for finishing.

AT AGASSIZ
That the minister approve of the suggestion to put a herd of registered Guernsey cattle in the stables at the Agassiz Experimental Farm was suggested by Cyril Roberts of Bertha, speaking on behalf of the B.C. Guernsey Breeders' Association.

The British Columbia horse breeders were represented by Alex. Davies of Ladner and W. H. Hicks of Agassiz. The Agassiz Experimental Farm was given to owners of stallions used in the prairie provinces of $5 per colt be extended to British Columbia.

To this proposal Mr. Weir said he saw no good reason why all provinces should not be treated alike.

Oliver C. Evans, representing the B.C. Jersey Breeders' Association, and P. H. Breder, representing the B.C. Holstein Breeders' Association, asked the minister reconsider his ruling regarding grants to Class A farms, where certain provisions had been made regarding the breeding of cattle.

They will confer further with the minister regarding this subject prior to his return to the east.

TRIBES FIGHT IN TURKESTAN
Kirghiz Warriors Defeat Tungs, Capturing Old City of Kashgar
Simla, India, Aug. 31.—One hundred and fifty persons were killed to-day as the result of heavy fighting between Kirghiz and Tungs tribes in eastern Turkestan.

The Kirghiz men captured the old city of Kashgar from the Tungs, and most of the inhabitants fled, taking refuge in the new city of Kashgar, five miles to the southwest. Reports received here indicated there was looting and massacre in the old city.

Kashgar is in a rich oasis at the confluence of roads leading to Peking, India and Russia. From 1864 to 1877 the British consular capital of an independent Mohammedan kingdom embracing the western portion of the Chinese empire. The population is about 50,000.

BREACH SEEN IN IRELAND

Republican Army Declares It Has No Confidence in Valera Government

London, Aug. 31.—The London Daily Mail to-day said the first definite breach between the Irish Republican army and President de Valera's government occurred in Dublin yesterday evening when the Irish Republican army issued a statement declaring it had no confidence in the administration.

The manifesto asserted the present Free State government of twenty-six counties was no more entitled to the allegiance of the Republicans than was the Imperial Junta of the six counties of Northern Ireland.

The Irish Republican army camp in County Dublin was raided Sunday by civic guards, the statement disclosed. The council of the "army" it was said, took this move as an indication that the Valera government intended to embark on a policy of coercion against the Irish Republican army.

DESIRES PEACE
The president told the London Daily Mail at Dublin he was anxious for peace with Great Britain, but that he must not be dictated by strong means. "We are a democratic government in every sense and we shall not dictate a republic until we have assured ourselves the people are ready," the president was quoted as saying.

"We have abolished the oath of allegiance to the crown, we are removing the power to reserve legislation, and we are abiding the appeal of the Privy Council."

ties to a greater extent than as Minister of Lands he has proved one of the keenest debaters in British Columbia, and one of the most eloquent speakers.

MR. PRITCHARD
If elected to the Legislature, Mr. Pritchard will make his debut as a parliamentarian, although he has previously sought a seat in the Dominion House. Mr. Pritchard who comes from Hazelton, B.C., was the unsuccessful Socialist candidate in the federal election in Nanaimo in 1921. After he came to British Columbia in May, 1911, he took a prominent part in the affairs of the Socialist Party of Canada and has been one of the leaders in its affairs for many years. For several years he was editor of The Western Clarion, the Socialist paper, published in Vancouver.

DR. TOLMIE
Premier Tolmie made his debut as a parliamentarian when he was elected to the House of Commons to represent Victoria in 1917. He was made Minister of Agriculture in August, 1919. When the Meighen Government was defeated he became Dominion organizer of the Conservative Party and remained in the federal field until he was named leader of the B.C. Conservative Party at the Vancouver convention in 1926 when Mr. Bowser's supporters and supporters of other nominees for leadership were in open conflict and Dr. Tolmie's name brought about a compromise. He left the Conservative Party to a thirty-five to thirteen victory in July, 1928, but since that time has seen his party slip from under him and his ministers leave him until today he faces the country with the British Columbia Conservative Association taking no active part in the fray.

MR. BOWSER
Mr. Bowser has had a spectacular career in British Columbia politics since he came to British Columbia forty-two years ago. He was the leader of a Non-partisan Movement, he was one of those who engineered party politics in the British Columbia Legislature by his advice to the late Sir Richard McBride, who later formed a ministry in 1903. His aim now to end party government in B.C. brings back sharp memories to politicians of the days when Mr. Bowser helped inaugurate it. As Attorney-General and Premier of the province and leader of the Conservative Party Mr. Bowser was a factor in politics until his defeat in Vancouver in 1924. After a retirement from politics he returned by making a bid for office in the constituency which returned him many times.

ment is seeking to perpetuate, these mountain lions are destroying sheep, goats and other farm animals in large numbers. Reports to the department show that a healthy mountain lion will kill and feed off as many as two to three sheep a day.

CLOSE CALLS
A number of close calls on the part of human beings are reported from various parts of the island. Passengers on the St. Princess Norah on her last trip tell of how a resident near Clayoquot hurrying along the trail came upon a huge male mountain lion. The man was able to escape only because of his fleetness in the woods.

At Craig's Crossing, on the main Island Highway last week, a large mountain lion invaded the camp at night. A general alarm was sounded. All the motor tourists responded and led by the police, they hunted the animal and closed the midnight hunt in motor cars with headlights ablaze got under way. Following the dogs, they were able to track the animal along the highway and up a wide road. After a chase of a mile, the dogs came upon the animal and started to worry it from behind. It went up the nearest tree and lay on a limb in the pitch darkness of night. Nothing could be seen of it but two large green eyes which flashed as it moved its head. After the whole crowd had caught up and were ready for the kill, the guns blazed at the two green eyes up high and the body of a lioness, but dying panther tumbled to the ground.

CAUGHT IN GARAGE
At Deep Cove, Saanich, adjoining the summer home of Dr. H. T. J. Coleman of the University of British Columbia, a cougar came right into the garage after a family dog which it was seeking to make a meal of. Neighbors who heard the dog squealing in terror closed the one open door. Guns were brought up and the animal was slain in its trap. Deep Cove is a thickly settled area and residents were amazed at the daring of the cougar in coming into the midst of such a settlement.

Many similar invasions of cougars are reported from other parts of the island, resulting in the loss of human life.

CRABMEAT
The British Columbia Crabmeat Association has issued a statement to-day that it is seeking to perpetuate, these mountain lions are destroying sheep, goats and other farm animals in large numbers. MANCHUKUO PLOT REPORTED
Tokio, Aug. 31.—A plan to involve the state of Manchukuo in international difficulties was behind attempts made May 12 to bomb the British and United States consular offices in Mukden, a Rengo (Japanese news agency) dispatch from Mukden said to-day.

Bombs were discovered in the British consulate-general and the residence of Myri S. Myers, United States consul-general, who they were removed without exploding.

The Rengo dispatch said the plot was engineered by Major-General Shang Chui-hsiang, a follower of Marshal Chang Hsiao-liang, who the Japanese ousted as governor of Manchuria at the beginning of their campaign in that province. Marshal Chang, the dispatch said, had supplied the funds.

An official statement, revealing details of the plot for the first time, announced Major-General Shang and ten assistants were arrested in July.

Vancouver, Aug. 31.—Efforts of police to locate the body of a man who it is believed might have jumped off Pier 21 into Burrard Inlet yesterday have failed thus far.

JOINS UP

Omaha, Aug. 31. (Associated Press)—One Omaha NRA campaign worker knocked on the door of a resident and was informed: "Me no want Blue Eagle. Me got plenty chickens." After a few words of explanation, however, the Blue Eagle joined the flock.

NEW PROBLEMS
FOR NRA CHIEFS

U.S. MARINE JAILED

Fort Sherman, Panama Canal Zone, Aug. 31. (Associated Press).—Sentence equivalent to twenty-six years at hard labor was imposed yesterday evening on Corporal Robert Osmun of New York, following conviction of violating the United States Espionage Act of 1917 in attempting to transmit secret military documents.

RELEASED BY POLICE

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 31. (Associated Press).—Mrs. Lily Banks Gaines was released from police custody here yesterday evening after having been held for three days in connection with the investigation into the slaying of her husband, Dr. James I. Gaines, druggist, physician and sportsman.

Shorter Work Hours in United States Are Not Short
Enough, Says William
Green, Labor Federation
President

By Sam Robertson, Canadian Press Staff Writer

New York, Aug. 31.—A demand from organized labor for an even shorter work week than the 40-hour week has been made today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, who pointed out, there still were 11,000,000 pairs of idle hands in the country.

There was also the case of Henry Ford to bring additional lines to the already worried face of Brig-Gen. Johnson. Indications that President Roosevelt himself was ready to enter the picture were seen in his request for a full report on Ford and his reasons for not accepting the auto industry code.

Consumers signing under the Blue Eagle are pledged to buy from those subscribing to codes. Right now some 1,000,000 volunteers are in the field securing such signatures.

WHOLESALE REPORT GAINS

The administration had news, both good and bad, on repercussions to its drive. New York wholesalers reported business 81 per cent better in July than the same month last year. But operations of the steel industry fell this week to 47 per cent of input capacity, compared with 50 per cent the previous week.

Business failures the country over numbered 326 the week of August 24. Slightly higher than the 312 the week before, the total was 44.7 per cent under the same week of 1932. Grouped, 151 major railroads had net income in June of $21,276,730 after all taxes and expenses, compared with a deficit of $20,522,703 for June, 1932.

LUMBER PRICES UP

A new slant on NRA effects came from the Pacific northwest Douglas fir district. Lumber mills there will work a maximum of thirty hours weekly next month, first period of allocated production under the act. This meaning there will be a substantial reduction in output, a rise in prices naturally will follow.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Hugh S. Johnson and his recovery administration counted August employment gains under the "Blue Eagle" to-day and launched a new effort to open the doors of factories, mines and stores to an even greater number of idle persons in September.

Their immediate problems were the speedy formulation of permanent codes of competition for bituminous coal operators and the retail trade—affecting more than 1,000,000 workers—and the question of bringing Henry Ford and his huge plants within the scope of the automobile agreement.

Recapitulating August activities in President Roosevelt's drive to stimulate employment and purchasing power before winter sets in, the NRA chiefs found eighteen permanent codes and 240 temporary trade pacts had been approved, bringing upwards of 10,000,000 workers under shorter hours and higher minimum wage agreements.

COAL DRAFT

Satisfactory progress was reported in writing the final draft of the bituminous coal code, with indications the administration's draft, based on an agreement reached last Monday, would be placed before the operators within a day or two.

A. D. Whiteside, deputy administrator, sought to shape a master code for the entire retail trade, including drug-gists and grocers, for dispatch to Mr. Roosevelt by the middle of next week.

Approval by Johnson of a modified re-employment agreement for small daily and weekly newspapers and job printers throughout the country was announced by officers of the National Editorial Association.

JAPAN'S NEW CHIEF OFFICIAL IN MANCHURIA

From arms to arm-chair, from fighting to fanning... General Hishikari Hishikari, army member of the Japanese War Council, was enjoying a period of relaxation when the above picture was taken shortly after he had been appointed commander-in-chief of Japan's Kwantung army, ambassador to Manchukuo and governor-general of the Kwantung leased territory, the posts having become vacant through the death of the general who had held them for some time. The appointment made Gen. Hishikari Japan's supreme official in Manchuria.

Canada-China Trade
Increase Is Predicted

Canadian Press—Toronto, Aug. 31.—En route to New York, Mr. Liang Shao-chi, Chinese representative at the Banff conference on the Institute of Pacific Relations, paused in Toronto long enough to predict the future would belong to China, Russia, Canada and the United States.

Mr. Liang spoke of the close relations he expected will soon exist between Canada and China. "We are boycotting Japan," he said. "We want wheat, cotton, paper and wool pulp. We are going to buy these things from your country."

He saw nothing ahead for the two countries but increasing friendship leading to mutually profitable business relations.

"Steps have now been taken to establish a Canadian minister to China at Nanking, the capital," he said. "China will welcome it."

ELECTION ON NOVEMBER 2

The government at last has capitulated to the demand of the public for the proclamation of a date for the provincial election, but there is every evidence that it has done so with the greatest reluctance. Indeed, its course in this respect is suggestive of the timid bather who dabbles on the end of the float and is finally pushed into the water by his companions. November 2 is near the end of fall, and near enough to the close of the year to enable the ministry to cherish the expectation that it can cling to office until 1934. This it could do by taking its time to "clean up" after its inevitable defeat, providing the Lieutenant-Governor did not accelerate the process.

We should have had an election and a new government long ago. In fact, the change should have been effected last year, and no doubt it would have been but for the curious idea in government circles that something might turn up which would arrest the tide of public opinion flowing strongly against it. Then, when that tide continued, it was decided to hang on as long as possible regardless of public sentiment, precedents or good taste. Its order of dissolution of the Legislature, which it thought would allay public impatience, was given only a month before the constitutional life of that body would have ended in any case, and it has been operating from that time without any assembly at all.

The proclamation of the date of the election finds only three candidates in the field who acknowledge themselves as supporters of the government. One is the Premier himself, the other is the Attorney-General and the third is F. W. Law, who is running in Burnaby. Whether any attempt is being made to have candidates who are not afraid to call themselves government supporters, or not, we have no information, but we question if ever before in the annals of representative institutions, with an election inevitable under the constitution before long, a government has proclaimed the dates of nomination and polling with only three candidates carrying its colors. It is true there are some independents who supported the government either in the House or Senate, but they have not been so forthcoming as to imply their lack of confidence in it by refusing to acknowledge themselves as its followers in the election. Certainly the government is not entitled to regard them as its candidates any more than it can so regard the candidates of the other parties represented in the election.

There will be four major parties in the election, consisting of the Liberals under the leadership of Mr. Pattullo; the C.C.F., whose leader, we understand, is Mr. W. A. Pritchard, a prominent Socialist of Burnaby; the Tolmie Unionists and the Bower Unionists. The Tolmie Unionists and the Bower Unionists are scarcely factors in the contest owing to the negligible number of their candidates, so the fight will be mainly between the Liberals under Mr. Pattullo, who are well organized and include men of experience in public affairs, and the C.C.F., representing a number of elements under leaders who are handicapped by lack of experience in either the Legislature or government.

Government in British Columbia to-day is not a matter of theory, but one of grim, cold, unescapable conditions which can not be met by experimentation based upon inadequate knowledge. Moreover, it needs strong, resolute and experienced leadership. It is because we believe there is a proper appreciation of these circumstances by the electors—whose interests are most imperatively involved and who must suffer the consequences of any mistakes they make in recording their decision at the polls—that we look for the election of the candidates who follow Mr. Pattullo.

BARNAKLES OF TARIFF PROTECTION

There seems to be some doubt in eastern industrial circles as to whether the right of British manufacturers to appear before the Canadian Tariff Board will be of very much use to them. The Toronto Star observes that the nature of the inquiries contained in the questionnaires sent to them has caused considerable resentment and is not likely to result in the provision of the required information. The Star quotes the following letter which appeared in The London Times:

The fact is that the board's questionnaires were such that no self-respecting British firm could give the inquisitorial information asked. Some questionnaires asked for particulars of all products used, quantities entering into composition, various detailed operations of manufacture and the costs of the different operations. In other words, British manufacturers were asked to reveal methods and costs of manufacture in no way necessary to enable the board to deal with the question of revision of the tariff; and to give such information would have been prejudicial to their interests as exporters and manufacturers. Small wonder that British producers came to the conclusion that the questionnaires were designed either to stifle applications or to obtain for the Canadian board confidential information of production which a manufacturer ought not to be asked to supply.

Our Toronto contemporary suggests that the questionnaire of which British manufacturers complain is one which our own manufacturers are familiar, and to which they submit because it is part of the machinery of the protective tariff system which is supposed to be operated in their favor, although many of them are more injured than aided by it as they would find if they made a thorough analysis of their position. "If Britain keeps on with tariff protection," The Star concludes, "her business men will become better acquainted with inquisitorial questionnaires and all the decimal points as to ingredients that go into the make-up of anything and everything."

It is essential, of course, that the Canadian Tariff Board should have the fullest possible information to enable it to turn over to the government all the facts concerning each application for tariff revision. One of the most substantial concessions the British exporter considered he had obtained from the Ottawa agreements was the right of appeal to our Tariff Board in respect of commodities in which he considered he was at too great a disadvantage in the competitive field. Mr. Bennett is urging Great Britain to discriminate against Russia in the matter of lumber for our benefit; Canada will have to give something in return.

CANADIAN CLUB CONFERENCE

The regional council of the Canadian Clubs of British Columbia which will hold a conference here to-morrow, is doing admirable work in promoting the Canadian Club movement throughout the province. In the main, the chief functions of the council are the organization of new clubs, and supplying them with speakers and various other forms of information and encouragement. At to-morrow's conference there will be representatives from numerous organizations, while the secretary of the Association of Canadian Clubs, J. R. McLean of Ottawa, who has been attending the Banff Conference, also will be present.

A high-light of the occasion will be a dinner meeting of the men's and women's clubs in the evening when the speaker will be Dr. Wolfers, a distinguished German educationist and publicist, who will speak on "The Breakdown of Parliamentary Democracy in Europe." Dr. Wolfers, who has been attending the Banff Conference, will throw much light upon the political conditions existing on the European continent which have aroused intense interest throughout the world.

AN EX-CONVICT MAKES GOOD

It is ordinarily said that the ex-convict has a hard time going straight because law enforcement agencies keep too close tabs on him. He gets "persecuted," trailed from job to job by policemen who never give him credit for a desire to reform. Sometimes perhaps this is quite true. But there are exceptions, and they make refreshing reading.

The most recent exception is the case of Paul Maxim, who escaped from the Ohio reformatory six years ago, drifted west, educated himself, got a job and established himself as an honest, law-abiding citizen. A few weeks ago he was discovered, arrested and sent back to Ohio; but when the story of his rehabilitation was told, the Ohio governor gave him a full pardon and his employer invited him to come back and go on with his job again.

Here, at least, was one case in which a man trying to live down his past is getting honest co-operation, and not persecution, from society.

CANADIAN POULTRY TRAVELS

At the World's Poultry Conference to be held in Rome, Italy, next month, Canada will exhibit about fifty birds. This exhibit will, it is expected, again demonstrate the reputation Canada-bred poultry have established for remarkable stamina.

This reputation was well exemplified when an exhibit of live birds was sent to the World's Poultry Congress at Barcelona, Spain, in 1924. Despite the fact that many of the birds in the exhibit had traveled all the way from the Pacific Coast and Vancouver Island, thousands of miles across the continent to Ottawa, where they went through the usual washing and conditioning for show before being re-shipped via Montreal to England, then to Barcelona, a rail and ocean journey of over six thousand miles, they arrived at their destination in perfect health and maintained that condition throughout the congress, not one bird showing off-condition during the entire period.

Evidence of superior stamina, the Canadian Government Information Bureau recalls, was freely commented on at the congress, and also at the 1930 congress, held in London, England, where 750 Canadian birds were on exhibit.

AUSTRALIA'S ROMANCE OF GOLD

Empire Free Union Bulletin

June 15, was the fortieth anniversary of the discovery of gold at Kalgoolie in 1893 by Patrick Hannan. From Coolgardie, where gold was discovered by Bayley and Ford in August of the previous year, about 100 men, including Hannan and Flannigan, set out for a bogus find near Mt. Youle, about fifty miles to the east. Running short of water Hannan and Flannigan camped for the night at Mt. Charlotte, now in the Kalgoolie municipality. Rain soon fell, and the two men, looking for a stray horse in the morning, noticed the promising nature of the country and went prospecting on June 15.

In two days they secured over 100 ounces of gold, and on June 17 Hannan returned to Coolgardie, a distance of twenty-four miles to register his claim and to apply for a reward area. The news spread like wildfire, and within a week 1,000 men were on the new field. During the next three or four years there was wild excitement. Thousands of men tramped over a hundred miles from the railroad at Southern Cross, and then spread over the country for many miles. Order quickly emerged from chaos, and by 1900 the population in the immediate vicinity of the Golden Mile numbered about 35,000, while a similar number was scattered over the goldfields to the north, south, east and west.

Since Hannan's find at the northern end of the famous Golden Mile, gold valued at between $90,000,000 and $100,000,000 has been recovered. A few years ago the field declined, but it is reviving as the result of good developments, the introduction of modern treatment plants, and the higher price of gold. The population is increasing again, and during the past two years about 300 houses have been constructed in the Kalgoolie and Boulder district. The reported gold production of Western Australia is 39,667,453 ounces.

Loose Ends

Fairy stories, but not for children—a defence of our native coastal dialect which will surprise you—a mighty hesitation in high places—a serious inconvenience and a fearful decision.

By H. R. W.

CHILDREN

One of the great Mrs. Mayo, which I forget, says that children are getting on better how-a-days because they are told the truth about everything. The Doctor is right. Our modern children seem to be able to hear anything and endure it with a stout heart. It is the grown-ups that must be told fairy tales. The grown-ups believe more fairy tales than are contained in all the nursery books of the world. So long as you dress a fairy tale up in scientific language or in the jargon of higher finance, the grown-ups will swallow it like innocent babes.

Right now they are swallowing more nonsense about economics, about business, about price trends, about politics than at any time in the whole history of the race. Their forefathers were just as innocent, just as fond of fairy tales, but at that time there were fewer fairy tales to swallow. Now, with the telling of economic, financial and political fairy tales developed into a high art and a well-organized business all over the world, human beings will believe almost anything, including, sometimes, what I tell them.

Every day the story of Goldilocks and the three bears is represented on Wall Street or on our own mining stock exchanges and implicitly believed, just because it is dressed up with a few figures and some ore samples from the Cariboo. The whole world is basing its fiscal policy on the feet of Jack and the Beanstalk, trying to climb up out of the depression on a ladder of tariffs which stretches up into the clouds of war and chaos; the wildest kind of a fairy story, but implicitly believed in every capital. And in Canada we have been waiting like little children ever since the crash for our Aladdin to conjure up the genie of prosperity, and we are so confident of his magical powers that we have kept on waiting. By all means tell the children the truth, but hide it at all costs from grown-ups. They are not built to endure it.

OUR LANGUAGE

THAT CURIOUS dialect, which we in British Columbia are accustomed to use in addressing uneducated Chinese at last has found a champion. A Chinese scholar, has come forth to proclaim this familiar pidgin English of our shores and the "only respectable international language of the future." It is a "glorious language," combining all that is best of English and Chinese, easy to learn, vivid and distinct. Even the great Bernard Shaw has agreed that the pidgin "no can" is a much more definite and satisfactory expression than the English "unable." Thus, "when a lady says she is 'unable' to come, you have a suspicion that she may change her mind and perhaps come after all, but when she replies to your request with an abrupt, clear-cut, 'no can' you know you have to reckon without her company."

SIMPLICITY

MR. LIN compares our splendid native dialect with the Basic English of 850 words which Professor C. K. Ogden is trying to promote as an international language. In Basic, the word "gramophone" must be twisted into "a polished black disc with a picture of a dog in front of a horn," whereas in pidgin it becomes a "talking box." What could be better? "Talking box" means much more than gramophone, which means nothing. In Basic there is no word for telescope and microscope, but in pidgin you have "look-far-glass" and "show-small-glass," which anyone can understand. "Telegraph likewise is "electric report," the telephone "electric talk" and the movies "electric picture."

On the whole, indeed, pidgin is a more expressive language than original English, and Mr. Lin believes that English will be overcome by it eventually. English, he explains, has been getting more like Chinese in its method of expression for a long time, and has triumphed over grammatical nonsense and refused to see sex in a tescup or a writing desk as modern French and German do. It has practically abolished gender and has very nearly abolished case. It has now reached a stage where Chinese was perhaps 10,000 years ago.

We on this coast will speak it naturally, without effort, after long years of practice. But how many of us have suspected as we bartered with a Chinese vegetable pedler over the price of one heap big lettuce that we were conversing in the classical tongue of the future?

AT LAST

WELL, I SAID the Premier, rapping for order in the executive chamber across the Bay, "It seems that we are met here to decide the date of the election."

"Oh, dear," said Mr. Hinchliffe, "must we?"

"Well, personally it means nothing to me," said the Premier, "but the people seem to want it. I can't imagine what for."

"What about having it in October?" asked Mr. Jones.

"That's quite impossible," said Mr. Pooley. "Why in October the grouse shooting will be at its best."

"Oh, very well then, December," said Mr. Jones.

"Ridiculous," said Mr. Howe. "The ducks will be flying up at Pitt River in December. Harry and I can't miss that, just for an election."

"Well, then, I suppose it must be November," sighed the Premier. "I never did like November, somehow."

"I don't like November either," said Mr. Pooley. "In November I'm always busy planting my primroses to get the blooms ready for the next session of the House."

"You won't need to this year. Or at least you won't need so many blooms," said Mr. Jones, gloomily.

"Will they love us in November, 1933, as they did in August, 1928?" hummed Mr. Hinchliffe. "Somehow I doubt it."

"Why not wait, then, till January?" asked Mr. Dennis.

"Too cold to get about my constituency in January," said Mr. Jones.

"Well, November, then," said the Premier. "What do you say to November 5?"

"No, I've got a shooting party on that day," said Mr. Pooley.

"And I'm going to sail my yacht on the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh," said Mr. Howe.

"That's right," said the Premier, "and we'll be harvesting the late mangels out at the ranch then, too."

"Gosh," said Mr. Jones, "I hate to go back to the Okanagan in November with those sharp frosts."

"Don't worry," said Mr. Hinchliffe, "there'll be sharp frosts in a lot of other places, too."

SPORTING WAY

WELL, I TELL you what," said the Premier, "if you insist on an election, though upon my word I see no sense in it, just a lot of silly newspaper talk—if you insist, let's do it in a sporting way. I shall blindfold myself with this handkerchief and, taking this pen in hand, I shall walk towards the calendar. Where the pen point rests, that will be the election date."

"Oh, all right, so long as it's not in the grouse season," said Mr. Pooley.

"Or the ducks," said Mr. Howe.

"Or the mangels," said the Premier.

The Premier walked blindfolded towards the calendar.

"The second of November," everyone cried a tone.

"Well, I suppose that's as bad as any other day," said Mr. Hinchliffe.

"They're all alike," said Mr. Jones.

"Oh, dear," said Mr. Jones.

"Just when the grouse will be getting good," said Mr. Pooley.

"The ducks," sighed Mr. Howe.

OWNERSHIP

Is this fragrance drifting here
 Something that can be less dear
 For the edges around your place?
 Can the words of any law
 That defines the land you hold
 Make me glimpse a vision or flaw
 Where your garden's buds unfold?

No such problems are for me!
 Merrily I pass along
 Joying in your poplar tree
 And your robin redbreast's song.
 Who worships of his fair things,
 Holding beauty half divine,
 Shares the gleam of lifted wings
 And the red rose, yours or mine!

20% of TEACHERS and STUDENTS Returning to School Need GLASSES!

It is authoritatively estimated that 1 out of every 5 engaged in close study, day after day, require an aid to their eyes.

This is easy to understand when it is realized that 80% to 85% of all knowledge is gained through sense of vision.

Eye strain or defective vision of any kind may cause physical suffering or inefficiency. There is only one way to be certain to avoid any hardship or handicap resulting from faulty vision—have a thorough examination by competent specialists.

Robert Strain and staff offer the most complete facilities for a pre-school examination of the eyes. You are assured of the personal attention of only highly qualified registered optometrists.

It is suggested you make an appointment to-day before the fall school term begins.

QUALIFIES FOR THE TYEE CLUB

George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, is shown here proudly displaying the 35½-pound salmon which he landed at Campbell River last week to qualify for membership in the Tyee Club. The qualifying weight is thirty pounds. At the time he caught this big one, Mr. Warren was using a Gibbs-Stewart seven spoon with a four-ounce weight. While at Campbell River Mr. Warren was engaged in arranging for moving pictures of Tyee fishing which are to be distributed throughout the British Empire by the tourist department of the federal government, through the courtesy of J. B. Harkin, national parks director. A 1,000-foot reel was shot which contains pictures of the big ones being caught, fighting, jumping and being landed.

INVISIBLE RULE OF BANKERS HIT

Their Power Much Reduced Under Roosevelt, Who Strengthens Public Support

By RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, Aug. 31.—The political implications of the recent Morgan disclosures are likely to be numerous. The country had never heard anything like those disclosures and reports indicate that it was pretty sore.

Much more startling than the revelation that the Morgan partners paid no income taxes was the fact that the Morgan firm, with its hands on a vast amount of treasury and financial data distributed to its intimates among leaders of both the Democratic and Republican parties.

Half a dozen men who had been seriously mentioned for the presidency with the House of Morgan were among those to whom Morgan secretly sold stocks at not much more than half the market price. It is fairly certain that none of them will be seriously considered again.

SUBJECT TO ATTACK

As long as they participate in politics they will be subject to attack as "Morgan men."

In both parties the cleavage will be accentuated between those who believe it is quite all right for a public figure to maintain a profitable friendship with the House of Morgan and those who don't. Progressives in both parties have new ammunition and a new battleground involving the great Morgan "spider web" of control.

There's a real political philosophy in the investigation. The men who have pushed it—and President Roosevelt himself has at least given it his blessing—want to reduce the Morgan and bankers' power. That power has been obvious in this administration than in any for a long time. Roosevelt, ever quick to seize a strong lic. Any one of them who is not called on for an explanation the next time he comes before the voters will be lucky.

Senator McAdoo of California, who lost a presidential nomination nine years ago, was disclosed that he had accepted a fee from Doherty, the oil man, doesn't have to run again for five years, but he was wild when he found that he was to be revealed as a Morgan friend who had received stock at below market value.

"COALITION OF RICH"

Any third party movement which develops may be expected to make the Morgan revelation its chief stock in trade, since leaders in both the old parties have been treated. Such a movement can make good use of the words of Senator James Couzens of Michigan, the richest man in Congress and a member of the investigating committee, who says:

"When it comes to money there are no Republicans or Democrats. Rich men never fight each other seriously. There's the finest coalition between all parties when it comes to control of the money."

JUDGE ISSUES "DON'TS" FOR WIVES OF CANADA

Ottawa-Jurist Tells Women How to Keep Nomadic Hubby At Home and Make Him Like It; Ball and Chain Method Is Ruled Out; Biggest Problem in Married Life Is Wives' Own Sex.

JUDGE J. F. McKINLEY of the Domestic Court at Ottawa, Ont., who has had to deal with countless cases during his career on the bench, has given considerable thought to the problem of how Canadian wives can keep their husbands at home. The judge has drawn up a list of "don'ts" for married women of Canada, designed to keep their husbands beside the hearth and make them like it.

The judge has issued the following rules for wives:

All men are babies; the bigger and stronger they are the bigger babies they are. Our mothers started us off by babying us—so it is up to you to carry on. Keep away from his office and don't be calling him up every time the baby bumps its head or you have a row with the maid. Don't be a telephone pest calling your husband up to pick up the evening meal at the grocery store or to trace your husband's movements without his knowing it. Don't meet your husband with tears in your eyes when he comes home at night because he was abrupt to you when you phoned. He was in the middle of an important interview when you called and you had no right to expect any of his time in the daytime except in an emergency. So—Beware of the Telephone.

Spruce up at night when he comes home at night, the same as you used to before you were married. Don't offer the thread-worn excuse that you were busy with the children and couldn't change your dress.

Remember you are in competition with your own sex always. Your husband sees your sex at their best all day, so don't let your sex outsmart you. You can do more to retain the romance and thrills of married life than your husband can.

Don't sit back and say, "I've got him." When you get to that stage you are losing him.

Don't grumble when he suggests having a few of his friends in to play bridge. Wouldn't you sooner make a few sandwiches than feel that somebody else was going to if you didn't? Make him want to stay at home and don't use the ball-and-chain method.

When he tells you he won't be home for lunch because his boss is in town, fool him, and tell him to bring him home for lunch, as that's the last thing he expects you to do. Keep the extra chop in the ice box ready for such emergencies.

Don't neglect him for the children. Remember, he is a great deal more sensitive than you realize. The loss of affection which is going in its entirety to the children may make him a good subject for the well-known woman who says, "Poor Jim, your wife doesn't understand you," and the poor fool is apt to believe her.

Successful marriages are founded on mutual respect, and when mutual respect goes out the front door, low goes out the back.

Your biggest problem in married life, ladies, is your own sex. Knowing your own sex, your problem should be easy, provided you realize the seriousness of it.

Make your sex act the question, "How does she keep Howard?" instead of the old heard, "How did she ever get Howard?"

Every man likes to feel his wife is dependent on him and needs his protection. So whether you are dependent or not, let him feel you are—it makes him feel better.

Aching, Swollen Feet

No sensible person will continue to suffer from those intense agonizing, throbbing foot pains when every well stocked drug store has Moore's Emerald Oil and sells it with an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

Your feet may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture. You'd give anything to get relief wouldn't you? Then get this: Two or three applications of Moore's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And best of all, this wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

MacFarlane Drug Co., B.C. Drugs Ltd. and every good druggist guarantees Moore's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back. (Adv.)

social study and wide experience as a magistrate, Judge McKinley drew up his foregoing list. Judge McKinley believes that the domestic troubles of married life following these suggestions will keep most married men from straying away from their homes and avoid much of the domestic troubles of married life.

Judge McKinley's domestic court is a clinic of marriage, of the home, of the duties of parents, of the relationship between man and wife.

Judge McKinley has pointed out that a married couple which weathers the disillusionment and friction of the first few years is not necessarily safe from domestic shipwreck, although some writers have asserted that the danger lies in the first few months or years of the partnership. He points out that after twenty years of marriage there are often disturbances, and many couples seem to need help and advice at that time.

The most difficult period for a man is around the age of fifty, when he undergoes some changes and often becomes the type commonly known as "the old codger." A sort of abnormal vanity often takes possession of him and he flatters himself that he has become very attractive to women. This probably is a psychological reaction from the knowledge of the fact that he is no longer young, and he likes to believe that he is still as fascinating.

The cleaning tray not only carries dust cloths and polishes to the living rooms but makes it possible to collect ash-trays, vases of flowers and last evening's papers and take them to the kitchen for cleaning, rearranging and discarding all in one trip.

TO-MORROW'S MENU
Breakfast—Blackberries, ready-to-serve cereal, cream, potatoes hashed in milk, crisp broiled bacon, bran muffins, milk, coffee.
Luncheon—Dried beef with peanut butter and tomato catsup sandwiches, orange jelly with whipped cream, vanilla cookies, milk tea.
Dinner—Pot roast of beef with vegetables, Chinese cabbage salad, peach shortcake, milk, coffee.

or more so, than he was when he was a young blade.

FOR WOMEN, the age of forty is the most serious time, because 'up to then most of them have been too busy with their domestic affairs and the raising of their children to find time for frivolous nonsense. But as the children are matured and the family is perhaps more prosperous, and the care of the household is left to a servant or two, these suddenly emancipated women do not know what to do with their time, and thus they are likely to step out in many directions. Like her husband, she also now realizes that she is becoming matronly and she is tempted to try out her charms to see if they still are effective. If she starts on this path she may be headed for disaster.

Judge McKinley has no illusions as to the masculine partner in matrimony. He is perfectly well aware that, as he says, "all men are babies; the bigger and stronger they are, the bigger babies they are." And this great fundamental truth is something which wives should thoroughly understand and always keep in mind in dealing with their partners.

Trays are being shown in profusion in many of the shops, and if you are tray-minded you can choose just what your pocket-book affords. But do invest in a set of trays. They will save you many steps as well as work in other ways.

Tray meals are a decided help to the busy housewife on many occasions. If you send breakfast on a tray to your house guest you will have the early morning hours free to do the extra baking and cleaning. And what keen enjoyment the guest will experience, breakfasting leisurely in her room!

When you or some other member of the family must lunch alone, why not use the luncheon on a tray? An inviting tray carried to some part of the house or garden quite away from the scene of your morning's activities is cheerful and restful. Furthermore, it is no more work to set a tray than it is to arrange a place at the table, or even to clear off a corner of the kitchen cabinet.

Successful marriages are founded on mutual respect, and when mutual respect goes out the front door, low goes out the back.

WOMEN SCORE SUCCESS AS MOVIE PRODUCERS

Two Bright Ones Blaze Trail in New Field at Hollywood

Hollywood's two women movie producers. Above is Helen Mitchell who, in private life, is the wife of Oliver Morosco, prominent theatrical producer; at right, Fanchon Royer, also married, who finds time to rear a family of four husky youngsters, in addition to her work as a studio executive.

WOMEN now are beginning to invade the executive end of the motion picture industry.

For years the film business has offered greater rewards for feminine talent than any other business in the world. However, the only branches open to women were acting, writing and directing. With their own studio, Mary Pickford and Gloria Swanson, both of whom have been the producers of their own pictures, women have found executive portals closed to them.

That day has passed, and now we find women sitting behind elaborate desks, directing the activities of entire companies. To date only two are so entrenched, but their success no doubt will bring others into the fold.

Fanchon Royer and Helen Mitchell are two who already have proven their worth as film executives and each in addition has found time to make a real home for her husband. Miss Royer, who in private life is Mrs. Jack Gallagher, even has four healthy youngsters.

IS ECONOMIC PRODUCER
Fanchon Royer Productions came into existence about a year ago when Miss Royer became tired of being a "10 percenter." For some years she has been associated with the film industry, managing and exploiting various individuals. Her remuneration for this work was 10 per cent of their salaries. Miss Royer decided it would be better to devote her time to some enterprise from which she could derive the entire profits. Hence she became an independent producer.

During the past year she has made eleven feature productions, each a money-maker. At first she simply rented stage space wherever it was available. Now she has a lease on an entire studio where she will turn out between fifteen and twenty productions during the coming year.

Miss Royer is a smart producer. Many of our major studio executives would give her a day spent in her studio very educational. Whereas they are making ordinary programme pictures in three or four weeks at a cost of $150,000 to $400,000, her films are made in from four to six days at a cost never exceeding $20,000.

They are good pictures, too, not as lavish as those turned out in the shadow studios, but still offering good entertainment—better sometimes than the more costly productions of the major producers.

WRITES OWN STORIES
While also ranking as an independent producer, Helen Mitchell is working and directing a somewhat bigger scale than that followed by Miss Royer. Her budget is $100,000 per picture and her plans call for only six films a year.

Miss Mitchell, who is married to Oliver Morosco, prominent theatrical producer, so far has completed only one picture, "Waffles." But with that one she has proved her ability as a producer. The picture was finished on time and within its appropriation. Furthermore, it is a good picture.

From my viewpoint, Miss Mitchell is making only one mistake. She plans to film only her own stories. For the time being that may be all right, but eventually she is going to find the task of both writing and producing six films a year too much of a strain.

Offhand, it would seem that the old cry for a feminine touch in motion pictures is being answered. Naturally, both Miss Royer and Mitchell are taking a feminine viewpoint. They are making pictures which will please women and their continued success should pave the way for more feminine producers.

KRESGE HEIRESS LEADS ELIGIBLES

Pretty Ruth Is Blonde, Likes Parties, But Does Not Fancy Marrying—Yet

Most Eligible Bachelor Simply Wants to Play Polo; Leviathan May Be Night Club

By PAUL HARRISON

New York, Aug. 31.—Most eligible of the town's rich young bachelors is Stephen (Laddie) Sanford, whose one ambition is to become an international polo player. And Ruth Kresge is the most eligible heiress. The girl who will come in for a tremendous slice of the ample 5-and-10-cent store fortune is pretty, blonde and likes parties. Of marriage, though, she is not having any thank you. Society's best sinner is Tommy Talier. Best trap-shooter is a woman, Mrs. William Woodward. Best poloist, Tommy Hitchcock, of course, who may be the best in the world.

Laddie Sanford (left) and Cobina Wright.

His mother, by the way, who is in her seventies, still rides daily, and even takes a jump or two on skittish mornings.

NOBLE LOW DOWNS ON HIGH HATS
Trubee Davison's mother, Mrs. Ward Cheney, has a living-room in which she boasts no piece of furniture cost more than $35. Robert Huntington, Mrs. Vincent Astor's brother, and his wife are both expert pilots. Sumner Gerard, brother of the former ambassador, plays the flute. Bishop William T. Manning, of the Rockefeller church, most admirer: I—John D. Rockefeller Jr., 2—Mussolini. Handsomest of the high-hats is probably Harry Tweed, who looks like John Barrymore.

There are two sets of twins in society—Lord Theima Furness and Mrs. Reynold Vanderbilt, who look and dress about alike, and Mrs. Malcolm Mescham and Mrs. Ralph Isham, who do not. The former pair were Morgans, the latter, from Texas, were named Hurt.

Stinging Animals of the Sea

Not long ago I had a talk with a professor from the University of London who had crossed the Atlantic to attend a convention of scientists. He gave a lecture before the convention, and described a machine which he had used to test the speed with which nerve impulses travel in the brains of different animals. After the lecture I asked him which animal tested on the machine had shown the slowest nerve response.

The jellyfish with which I became too well acquainted was a small one. The stinging nettle was a small one, except in my memory; but more than one person bathing or swimming in the ocean has been stung so severely as to make his skin look as if it had been burned. Fishermen who drag in jellyfish in nets, along with real fish, sometimes feel the hurt of the stinging.

About 99 per cent of the body of a jellyfish is composed of water. It has no bones and no shell. The jelly, however, has an opening on the under surface, and this opening serves as a mouth.

The bodies of most jellyfish are almost as clear as window glass, but some are colored.

These animals differ widely in size. Sometimes the body has a width of only a few inches, but in other cases it is several feet wide.

The giant "blue jellyfish" of the North Atlantic has a width of from two to five feet. The tentacles which hang down from the body are of great length; specimens with tentacles between seventy-five and 100 feet long have been reported.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

Best dressed woman is, perhaps, Mrs. Robert McAdoo. And the tallest socialite is Bob Anderson, who is six feet five inches and has a wife less than five feet. . . . Tattooed men of the society circus are Grosvenor Davis and Ogden Starr. . . .

Cobina Wright is almost always news. She first attracted attention when, at the age of fourteen, she ran away from an aunt while they were traveling in Europe—and turned up on the stage where she was capably carrying a role in "The Magic Flute." . . . She was heard from next in France (and by thousands of doughboys at a time) when she sang war songs from the backs of trucks. . . . Next she married Owen Johnson, the writer, was divorced, later married wealthy William May Wright. . . . While they were on the crest of a social and financial wave, she started her annual "Society Circus," a charity affair that always sets the town's celebrities battling for tickets. . . . Then her husband lost his money and the Wrights lost both their houses. Pretty soon she lost her husband, by the divorce route. . . . Cobina then worked in a gown shop, sang at a night club, managed a string of "Cobina Wright Orchestras." She began getting prosperous in her own right. . . . Not so long ago she went to a hospital, seriously ill. Along with convalescence, though, she got a really big idea. She would lease the Leviathan for a sort of show boat, night club and deluxe playground. . . . Friends shook their heads anxiously and nurses gave her sedatives. But Cobina really meant it. The enormous old liner is tied up, idle, at a North-Brook dock. She easily could be taken up a little further up the Hudson, to the old New York City, where she could stage all kinds of entertainment, from roller skating to the drama. . . . So now Cobina Wright is a personage on the biggest ship in the world.

The Shining Talent

By ELEANOR EARLY

(Copyright, 1929, by NEA Service Inc.)

"I don't know why," she retorted. "If he spilled a solution of the Bradford murder, Red, it's your civic duty to tell the world."

"Maybe," he admitted. "But to tell the truth, dear, I haven't any of that stuff called civic pride."

"You're just soft-hearted," she accused.

"Soft-hearted nothing!" he rejoined indignantly. "I'm practical, that's all. And, just now, I've got an idea, Molly. A great big idea."

Molly sighed. "Go on," she urged. "I'm dying of curiosity, Red. Tell me about the Ingersoll kid, and never mind your beautiful ideas."

Red lighted another cigarette. "Molly, darling," he informed her. "I love you and all that, but you're a dreadful dumbbell. Can't you see there's a plot for a play, or a novel, in this Ingersoll kid? Why throw the thing away on a newspaper yarn? Why not collaborate on something worth while? What's a bonus from the old man, a measly little $50, when we can make a fortune? I tell you, Molly, we can knock Broadway dead with the stuff that hat split to-night!"

"But tell me!" she besought. "Red, you're simply talking your head off. I don't know what it's all about."

"No? Listen, then," he solemnly began. "Perry Ingersoll fell in love with Bernice Bradford."

"You mean Molly's mother?" she asked.

"Yes, yes," Molly nodded. "And because she was gay and charming, and very, very wise, this young Ingersoll found her a perfect playmate. He was different from all the nice little girls he'd known. The good girls, who smoke a lot and drink a little, and pretend to be very, very bad. Bernice was just herself. Beautiful, and loving, and sinning. So Ingersoll fell in love with her, did he?"

"Well, he thought he did," Red said. "And that's pretty much the same thing as near as I can make out. She was just the glittering thing that had ever come into his life. And when she gave him a little attention, he fell like a load of bricks. Did I tell you he wrote poetry to her? Called her his golden girl, and all that trash. His 'Glimmering Golden Girl' doesn't it give you a pain, Molly?"

"No," she said. "I think it was rather sweet of him, Red, and awfully pathetic."

Red chuckled. "Just a born little romanticist," he chided. "And you a newspaper woman, Molly!"

"Go on!" she pleaded.

"Well, as I was saying, young Perry Ingersoll got a poetic passion for this woman, and pretty soon he started glorifying her. Wanted to marry her. But Bernice knew how to play her cards better than that. An adoring kid might be some use to a girl in her profession, but what the heck could she do with a sophomore husband?"

"You say he knew about Barrows?" questioned Molly.

"Oh, Barrows darn near broke the poor sap's heart," rejoined Red. "The kid was so jealous he couldn't see straight. That's why he was ready to swallow Bernice's proposition, hook, line and sinker."

"What proposition?"

"Don't be in a hurry," he instructed. "Ain't I trying to tell you? First, you see, the kid was imploring Bernice to marry him, and she was laughing at him. Then, when he'd given up hope, and made up his mind she meant it, she suddenly turned the tables. One night she asked Perry to marry her! I can imagine the poor boob's head spinning. He was so desperate he'd have married her for a minute."

"Bernice knew he was infatuated with her, and that she could twist him right around her bejeweled little finger. She knew, too, that he was broke and desperately in need of money. There seems to have been something about gambling debts at the university, and the kid was afraid of an expose."

"Well, Bernice said she'd marry him, and give him a few thousand besides, if he'd be a good little boy, and do exactly as she told him. And then she confessed that Barrows was beginning to tire of her. Not that she gave a hoot whether he loved her or not. Oh, no, Bernice wasn't one of your sentimental models. I don't suppose she'd ever given a hoot for a man in her life. But there was a lot of money in the Barrows outfit."

"You remember Barrows' aunt was supposed to have provided the defense fund. Well, that wasn't his own aunt. And for Mrs. Barrows' sake, the old lady would go through anything. Barrows' wife's people wouldn't stand for any scandal. And Bernice knew the game from a to z."

"But this was to be high class blackmail. Nothing small-time about Bernice. Barrows was too well known to have his private life concealed from anybody. It wouldn't do Bernice any good to say she didn't know he had a wife."

"That being said, that our heroine reckoned a husband would be a good bet. And this night I'm telling you about how she laid her cards on the table."

"We'll get married," she told young Ingersoll, "and then you'll threaten to sue Barrows for alienation of my affections."

"At first the kid didn't get it. And then she tells him she means to continue to play Barrows. Perry'll have to come home some night, and catch Barrows there. He's just to be the boob, that's all."

"Perry'd have to make a scheme, she said, and make a fool of himself. He'd have to be a little more than a boob, and try to patch things up. And in the end they'd have Barrows promising them anything they wanted. He could get money, you see, from his wife's aunt. There were two reasons why the old lady would give it to him, and Bernice knew them both."

"First, there was the way she loved her niece. If the thing threatened to become a court case, the old lady'd peel off a hundred-thousand to save the family honor."

Molly gasped. "You don't mean to tell me," she cried, "that Ingersoll agreed to it?"

Red nodded contemptuously. "He did," he affirmed, "just that. 'But don't forget, Molly, that the kid was absolutely infatuated with her, and after all he is a kid. And anyhow, he swears he had no intention of complying with her schemes. After they were married, he never meant to leave her. The poor sap was going to make her love him. That is what he thought.'"

"Do you believe it?"

"Oh, I don't know. The kid's no Galahad. The point is, he promised he'd go through with it. And Bernice went and bought a wedding dress. That girl sure had a sense of humor. A white satin dress with a deep V-neck, and a train, and a duchess cap of seed pearls, with orange blossoms tucked in her veil. It wasn't a sense of humor though, Red. Women don't joke about things like that. Poor soul—she was buried in it."

Red nodded unfeignedly. "Swell looking corpse, wasn't she?"

"Good!" approved Red. "You can sure turn a pretty phrase, old dear. 'I did write some good stuff on that case,' confessed Molly delightedly. 'Emotional writing is what I like. And I have your chance,' cut in Red excitedly. 'Don't you begin to see the thing, Molly? Say, this has all those crime and sex plays beat a mile. Why, honey, you can give the best of them a run for their money. Here you've got all the ingredients for the best damn plot in history. Beautiful woman. Quivering passion. The call of love. Ingersoll. Play Ingersoll alongside Barrows. And Bernice alongside Mrs. Barrows. Sin versus respectability, with Sin all glamorous and seductive. Respectability all demure and proper. And Sin calls the tricks. And there's your Moral. Every play has to have a Moral.'"

"And Mystery!" cried Molly. "Why, Red, it's the most mysterious thing that ever was! Here's a woman preparing for her wedding day. All set to blackmail a wealthy lover, and marry a boy who adores her. Everything's set. Why—just why will she kill herself?"

"That's just it!" announced Red triumphantly. "And the answer is—she didn't!"

"But who?" began Molly.

Uncle Wiggily's Ocean Raft

By HOWARD R. GARIS

When Uncle Wiggily's bunny rabbit children heard how he had Mr. White-wash, the Polar Bear gentleman, smash up his seaweed tent to drive out the Bad Chaps, Buster, Custer, Jingle, Jangle, Baby Bunty and all the others felt very sad about it.

"Oh, Uncle Wig," said Bunty, the orphan rabbit, using all the baby talk she was allowed. "Why didn't you let us play in the tent before you had Mr. White-wash smash it?"

"Because I had no time, my dear," answered Mr. Longears. "The Fox and the Bob Cat were in my seaweed tent waiting for me to come in and nibble. I had to get Mr. White-wash to smash the tent on their heads very quickly."

"Maybe you can make another," suggested Buster.

"Oh, that would be fine!" exclaimed Jingle.

"We could have a lot of fun in a seaweed tent," spoke Jangle, her twin sister.

"I'll make another right away," promised Uncle Wiggily.

"This he did, using some of the seaweed and some of the sticks and boards from the smashed up tent which had been knocked almost as flat as a pancake by the heavy paws of the big, white Polar Bear."

"Well help!" offered Baby Bunty and she and the other rabbit girls and boys gathered more seaweed, found bits of driftwood on the beach and with their aid Uncle Wiggily soon had a sturdy tent much bigger and better than the one the two Bad Chaps had sneaked into trying to catch the rabbit gentleman.

"Some chairs and a table, also made out of driftwood, gave the rabbit children a place to sit down and eat. 'That is if we can get anything to eat,' said Custer, who was Buster's brother."

"Oh, I think Nurse Jane would give us something to eat," spoke Baby Bunty.

"Nurse Jane will do anything for us," said Baby Bunty. "And when the little orphan rabbit was hopping on her way to Uncle Wiggily's seashore shack, Jingle said:

"Isn't she cute?"

"Yes," said Jangle. "Nurse Jane loved Baby Bunty and the muskrat lady housekeeper soon packed a basket with good things to eat. These Bunty took to the new seaweed tent and soon all the rabbit children were having a picnic."

"But this is no adventure for me," remarked Uncle Wiggily.

"Adventure!" exclaimed Nurse Jane, who had come down to the beach to see that the rabbits had enough to eat. "Adventure! I should think you had enough adventure when the Fox and the Bob Cat nearly got you."

"But they didn't get me!" laughed the rabbit gentleman. "It was a sort of adventure, in a way, but I want another."

Just then the waves washed up on the beach a lot of boards and sticks fastened together. It looked to be part of a ship that had been wrecked and as soon as Bunty saw it he cried out:

"Oh, there's a raft! There's an ocean raft and we can get on and paddle all around and have fun."

The next wave tossed the wreckage which, indeed, was like a raft, higher up on the sand. Uncle Wiggily hopped down to look at it.

"Yes," said the rabbit gentleman, "this would make a good ocean raft on which to go sailing."

"Hurray!" cried Custer.

"May we put it back in the water and get aboard?" asked Buster.

"Not yet," answered his father. "Not until I have tried this ocean raft to make sure it is safe. I will go for a little voyage on it and when I come back—if it is all right, you children may play on it. Now I will go aboard."

But maybe you won't come back," said Baby Bunty.

"Nonsense!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Of course I'll come back."

The tide was neither going out nor coming in now. It was what the sailors call "slack water," and as there was very little surf or big waves, Uncle Wiggily had no trouble in pushing the raft off the sand and into the ocean. Then he floated like a plug, first boat.

He jumped on it with a stick to pole himself or row himself along and turned to blow a kiss from his pink tongue to his bunnies on shore.

"There goes Uncle Wig just like Robinson Crusoe," said Baby Bunty.

On and on aboard his ocean raft went the rabbit and something very strange happened to him. I'll tell you about it to-morrow when the story will be Uncle Wiggily's queer voyage. And I hope the electric fan doesn't blow the hair off the doll and make her bald-headed like a lemon.

Saanich School Board Secures Reduction in Transportation Rates For Pupils

A reduction of $400 in the annual cost of transportation of the Saanich School Board has been secured by a special committee of the board from the Vancouver Island Coach Lines, according to a report made at a meeting yesterday evening.

At a meeting Monday evening the board appointed Trustees Walter P. June and William Tomes to interview Harold Husband, manager of the Coach Lines, with a view to seeking a reduction in the charge of $425 a month, which was previously in force, for transporting children to the various schools.

The trustees stated Mr. Husband had agreed to lower the rate to $385

The two trustees were further instructed to endeavor to secure an extension of the Lake Hill route beyond the present terminus in order to facilitate travel for Cloverdale School pupils.

IN MEMORIAM

BELL—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Henry B. Bell, who died suddenly last night at his home in Shawing, August 31, 1932.

His smiling way and pleasant face are a pleasure to recall.

Never to part again.

New York Giants Invade Boston For Important Series

National Baseball League Leaders Engage Up and

BOTH CLUBS IN

Pittsburgh Hurdles Chicago
For Third Place; American League Teams Idle

Baseball's deep and abiding passion, a truly "crucial" series, gripped Boston and the National League to-day as Bill Terry's New York Giants ran their penultimate chances into the gauntlet of the second-place Braves.

Setting the scene for the start of to-day's big battle, the Giants outbatted the St. Louis Cardinals, 5 to 4, yesterday, with Hal Schumacher showing signs of wear as he staggered home a victorious in a duel with Dizzy Dean. Meanwhile, the Braves, regaining their stride, knocked down the Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 2, to even the series as Huck Betts turned in a neat five-hit performance.

PITTSBURGH THIRD

Pittsburgh Pirates edged almost unannounced into third place by two points through taking the fourth straight from the Phillies, 5 to 1, while the Chicago Cubs slipped to fourth by splitting a double-header with Brooklyn Dodgers.

Charlie Root edged Hollis Thurston to give the Cubs the first, 2 to 1, but Roy Ryan, in relief, held the Cubs in the second as a rookie shortstop, Linus Frey, drove in four runs in the bottom of the ninth.

Ralph Birkhofer held the Phillies to four hits to win his second victory for the Pirates since being recalled from the International League.

No games were scheduled in the American League.

New York, Aug. 31.—New York Giants kept their six-game lead intact yesterday as Lefty O'Doul followed up a home run blast with a ninth-inning single to drive in the run that defeated St. Louis Cardinals 5 to 4 in the league leaders' final game before invading Boston to-day for the first of a six-game series to be played in four days. Boston Braves also won yesterday.

O'Doul's final inning blow, hit with the bases loaded, sent Joe Moore across the plate with the deciding tally, but it was Lefty's fourteenth homer of the season, following Bill Terry's circuit drive in the fourth inning, that kept the Giants in the thick of the battle.

St. Louis Cardinals, 5 to 4, New York, Aug. 31.—For the third straight time Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers divided a double-header yesterday to close the championship season. After Charlie Root had out-pitched Hollis Thurston to give the Cubs the opener 2 to 1, the Dodgers hammered Guy Bush hard to win the nightcap 7 to 3.

Algonac, Mich., Aug. 31.—Two sets of signals have been set up to indicate the start of the Harmsworth races on Lake St. Clair Saturday and officials hope to avoid any repetition of the premature start which marked the 1931 races, in which both Gar Wood and Kaye Don were disqualified for jumping the gun.

Signals will be displayed both from land and water to start Wood and Miss America X and Hubert Scott-Paine and his Miss Britain III.

From the deck of a yacht anchored at the starting line in the St. Clair River a gun and white flag will be used to mark the starting time. From the shore a huge clock and the dropping of five balls will signalize the start.

Neither driver will be allowed to cross the line more than five seconds ahead of the gun under penalty of disqualification. Under the rules three seconds are to be added to the elapsed time of the race for each second a boat beats the gun, up to five seconds.

FINE FIELDS FOR BIG SWIM

Leading Victoria and Vancouver Stars Entered in Wrigley Races For Saturday

Mainland Club Sending Strong Contingent; Last Year's Winners Not in Yet

What promises to be one of the finest fields ever to compete for the event is now shaping up for the annual Wrigley swim for men and women, to be staged in the Victoria Harbour on Saturday afternoon, commencing at 4 o'clock. To date seven men and six women have entered the two events.

In the men's race three Vancouver swimmers and four Victorians are entered. Denny Walker, Y.M.C.A. recent winner of The Daily Times Through Victoria swim of three miles, is the outstanding local competitor who will take part in the mile event.

Other entries include Bill Robertson, Crystal Garden Swimming Club; Lloyd Mathews, Victoria Amateur Swimming Club; Frank Wright, Y.M.C.A.; Norman Walton, Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club; Frank Turner, Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club; and Ed Welch, Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club.

Jack Gear of Vancouver, last year's winner of the men's event, has not entered to date, but he is expected to be one of the competitors.

CARRIE GREY ENTERED
Carrie Grey, who finished second in The Times swim, and who was the first woman to finish, will lead the Victoria entries in the women's section. The other local competitors include Eleanor Peden and Gay Stewart, both of the Crystal Garden Club. From the Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club the following entries have been received: Jean MacOillivray, Marion Moffat and Bette Barnhart. Agnes Martin, who won the women's race last year has not filed her entry yet but is also expected to compete.

The men's race will get away at 4 o'clock, and will be followed by the start of the women's event at 4:10 p.m.

THE BIG SIX

Bill Terry connected with only one hit, a home run, yesterday, but that one blow gave him a batting average of .333 for the day and shoved him back into baseball's Big Six. He replaced Wes Schulmerich, who could do nothing with Ralph Birkhofer's offerings in the Pirates-Phillies game.

Chuck Klein got two out of the four hits of Birkhofer to boost his average one point to .375. Virgil Davis went hitless and lost four points, but retained runner-up honors in the National League's half of the sextette. The American League members were idle.

Victoria Captures Wednesday Cricket

Decisive Victory Over Hudson's Bay Gives Team First and Second Half Honors

Wenman Brothers in Brilliant Bowling Display; Five C's Defeat Fairfield

Registering one of the most decisive victories of the current season Victoria yesterday afternoon won the championship of the Wednesday Cricket League by trouncing Hudson's Bay 107 to 15 at the Work Point Barracks. In a friendly match played at Beacon Hill Five Cs scored a one-sided victory over Fairfield, the score being 114 to 29.

The bowling performances of Reg and Godfrey Wenman was an outstanding feature of the Victoria-Bays match. Godfrey was in brilliant form to capture five wickets for four runs while Reg took four wickets for seven counters.

Hudson's Bay batters were powerless against the effective bowling of the Wenmans, their leading batter being F. Tyrrell who only managed to get six runs, respectively.

Cox tops batters
Cox was the leading run maker for Victoria with a stand of 41 before being bowled by Stenton. Peberdy and Craddock were next, scoring 25 and 20 runs, respectively.

Victoria's victory gives them league honors without a play-off.

Wheat Prices Lower With Hedging Sales Offsetting Exports

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—Burdened with heavy hedging sales which were only partially absorbed by an improved export demand, future prices turned downward on the Grain Exchange to-day and closed at levels one to 1/2 cents under the previous finish.

Values were not far removed from "pegged" levels when the bell sounded the end of trading. A little scattered selling late in the day added to the hedging pressure and support was not forthcoming. October option would up at 70 1/2, December 72 1/2 and May 77 1/2 cents.

Canadian Press
Montreal, Aug. 31.—The Montreal Stock Exchange was dull and featureless during to-day's light trading and prices showed general fractional decreases. Honor James Key Pioneer of City

CODE EVALUERS TO FEEL NRA

"More Heat" Expected as Many Complaints are Filed at Washington

Companies Which Have Not
Signed Up Take Advantage of Those Which Have

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Washington, Aug. 31.—Watch for some hot developments in connection with enforcement of the president's blanket code.

NRA officials are gravely concerned by piles of telegrams from cities throughout the country, demanding help or advice in cases arising from violations or refusals to sign up. Many of these are from chambers of commerce or local drive officials.

The man who signed up, shortened hours, raised low wages and hired new employees in good faith emits a sad plaint as his competitor—a non-signer—faces him with ruinous competition made possible by lower costs.

"MORE 'HEAT' EXPECTED"

An example of the sort of thing that can happen is reported from Maryland. A large, nationally known chain of stores is operating under the code. Alongside it is another corporation which is paying its workers 10 cents an hour. The latter is expected to be turned over to the first company operating at a disadvantage for the next year.

After the first rush of code acceptance came another rush of inquiries from employers who had no surplus with which to tide them over the extra costs in the immediate future. Apparently they will have to be granted temporary excuse.

Recent tendency has been to place campaign responsibility for decisions on local agencies. But more "heat" is sure to be turned on from Washington.

POPULAR SUPPORT SEEN

One thing every administration official agrees upon.

The plain people of the country are still solidly behind Roosevelt and may be counted upon to support him in any venture he is likely to undertake.

That is important, because nearly everyone expects further measures of government control. The time may find itself in serious conflict with powerful segments of finance and industry.

The facts behind the end of the coal strike in Pennsylvania, and the privately reported here, that the mine owners and the government are in a close contact with thousands of travelers. He has met most of the distinguished people who have passed through Victoria, on their way to and from the Orient. He has met among others the Duke of Gloucester, the King and Queen of Siam, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, the late Sir Thomas Lipton, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, and hundreds of others, well known in the financial, political and social life of many countries.

IN ROYAL NAVY

Before coming to Canada forty-two years ago, Mr. Key served with the Royal Navy. He saw active service during the War. He first came to Canada in 1891 and for two years acted as mountain guide in the Canadian Rockies. In '99 he came to Victoria and for many years was employed at the Hotel Empress and the Pacific Club. At the outbreak of the Great War he was manager of the Dallas Hotel, one of the finest hotels in the northwest, and left that position to join the Royal Navy. He served aboard H.M.S. Edinburgh Castle and at the time of his discharge was serving aboard coastal motorboats, operating out of Dunfermline, in patrol duties on the English Channel.

Mr. Key joined the British Navy when a young boy. He served with the Royal Marines on the west coast of Africa, and the east coast of South America, being a corporal in the Royal Marine Light Infantry at the time he decided to come to Canada.

Musical Comedy
Is "Televised"

Reuter's Special

London, Aug. 31.—The British Broadcasting Corporation has broadcast its first "televised" musical comedy, and artists in weird make-up, consisting of navy blue lips, pink cheeks and hair plastered with a composition of the color of lead, were to be seen in the studios.

While Clarkson, the man who made wig and grease-paint for nearly every play in London until he retired a year or so ago, came to the studio specially to give advice about make-up.

The piece was "Rokoko." The artists were all dressed in magnificent costumes of eighteenth century Vienna. Scenery was provided for the first time in the history of British television (hitherto a black backdrop has sufficed).

Seen on the television in a darkened room the play was fairly visible. It seemed a slight affair, on typical musical comedy lines.

B.C. PROFESSOR IS LOST AT SEA

Prof. Sadler of U.B.C. Disappears From Ss. Emergency Aid Near Panama

Balboa, Canal Zone, Aug. 31.—Professor William Sadler of Vancouver disappeared Tuesday from the steamer Emergency Aid, on which he was the only passenger. It was learned yesterday when the vessel arrived here.

Canal Zone police were not notified of the case.

The home office of the Pacific Air-Construct Steamship Line will conduct an investigation.

Vancouver, Aug. 31.—Prof. Sadler, whose research work in dairying was internationally known, was given leave of absence for the fall term by the Board of Governors of the University of British Columbia at its meeting Monday night. He sailed for South America some time ago.

Honored by the International Education Board of New York in 1926, Prof. Sadler was awarded a fellowship of $2,000, and spent a year in leading laboratories of Europe. It was the first such award made to a Canadian.

During his stay on the continent he worked with Prof. Orla Jensen of Copenhagen, Prof. Charles Barthel of Stockholm and other well-known dairy specialists.

During the last few years Prof. Sadler had devoted considerable time to the study of a pure milk supply, to the preparation and manufacture of certain varieties of cheese and to other matters pertaining to milk and milk products.

He had also done research in connection with the whitening of paper under a special grant made by the Powell River Company Limited. He planned to make some inquiries in this connection in South America, where a large quantity of B.C. paper is marketed.

Prof. Sadler's work also included direction of research under empire marketing board grants to the University of British Columbia, and his performances in this connection won high praise.

Prof. Sadler is married, but his wife did not accompany him on the trip to South America. The Emergency Aid, on which he was a passenger, sailed from Vancouver August 6.

COMPENSATION CLAIMS FEWER

Decrease in Industrial Operations in 1933 Reflected in Cases Before B.C. Board

Capitalized Reserve Now Over Eight Millions; Pensions Actuarially Revalued

A capitalized reserve of $8,300,043 has been built up by the B.C. Workmen's Compensation Board, according to the report for 1932 just issued by E. S. H. Winn, K.C., chairman, and Parker Williams and Hugh R. Gilmore, directors.

The board is now paying regular pensions to 793 widows, 544 children, 128 dependent mothers, thirty-five dependent fathers and thirty-one other dependents, because of injuries or losses incurred in industry in this province.

In its sixteen years of operation the board has handled a total of 397,233 claims, which is an average of 24,829 a year. During the sixteen years 3,432 employees were fatally injured and 9,641 totally or partially disabled for life.

For the year 1932, assessments were based on a volume of $140,955,102 of industrial payrolls in this province. During the year employers paid in assessments, $1,829,612; employees paid $192,924 on the cent-a-day basis, while employers paid $257,751 additional for medical aid. In addition, $428,824 was applied in interest from the reserve fund.

The board paid out a total of $3,831,242 during the year. This included $855,017 and $350,285 as the value of future payments of 10 per cent of 1932. A balance at the credit of industrial classes stood at $703,973. For physicians, hospitals and drugs a total of $408,550 was paid.

The report says fresh actuarial valuation of all pensions was made during the year, with reserve funds adequate to sustain all groups.

Casualties of all kinds decreased in number during the year. Of the accidents, lumbering accounted for thirty-one per cent, general manufacturing and delivery fourteen per cent, construction and railroad eight per cent, coal mining and municipal employment seven per cent and metal mining six per cent. Of the fatalities, cent, lumbering accounted for thirty-seven per cent, coal-mining for thirteen per cent and metal mining for twelve per cent.

Married men constituted fifty-six per cent of those injured. A total of 155 women filed claims during the year.

A reduction of 10.3 per cent in the number of firms operating during the year was shown, with a decrease of twenty per cent in the number of employees protected. Wages and consequently disbursements were at a lower level. Altogether 7,654 firms operated under the compensation plan, with 706 new firms coming under it during the year.

TAXES SLOW IN PORT ALBERNI

Collections 20 Per Cent Behind With Deficit Feared By End of Year

Port Alberni, Aug. 31.—With only a 77 per cent collection so far of estimated tax receipts for 1933, the city of Port Alberni will face a difficult financial situation during the remaining four months of the year. Collections to date are about 20 per cent short of the estimated amount, and unless there is a considerable increase in current tax payments during September there can be little hope of ending the year without a deficit.

The probable deficit has been estimated at amounts varying up to $10,000, the latter figure being based on an anticipated shortage of $7,000 in taxes, $2,000 in water accounts, and $1,000 in land sales.

At Monday night's meeting of the city council the finance committee brought in a recommendation from its absent chairman, Ald. W. L. Harris, that future expenditures in each civic department be reduced by the proportion of taxes collected below the estimated amount, which is 20 per cent at present. After much discussion the recommendation was laid on the table until the first meeting in October, as it is hoped there will be more taxes paid in September and the necessary economies therefore need not be so drastic.

City Clerk H. Bradley explained just what such a step would mean. It could not be enforced in the case of school teachers or police; some departments had already expended the amount allotted in the estimates, and the reductions would of necessity have to come from city hall, water and public works salaries, including council indemnities. Even if all city departments were closed up for the balance of the year, he said, there would

I'm giving away a swell steamer, just like a C.P.R. steamer. It is nearly 5 feet long and goes by clockwork; also a full-size Baby Doll, just like a real baby, but doesn't need feeding. All you have to do is to write me a short note and tell me the bum things you know about our Warehouse. Don't tell me any nice things. We know them already. Just the bad things. The boy that sends in the best bad things gets our boat—not our goat—and the girl that sends in the worst bad things gets the doll. Tell us if we don't sell cheap. Tell us if we have sold you any bum stuff. Tell us if you think we have soaked you. Tell us your kick, something bad, and something like this:

DEAR FILBERT PHIPPS:—
"I bought a pair of school pants from you and they are so tight I can't sit for my examinations."

DEAR FILBERT PHIPPS:—
"I bought a shirt at your warehouse and it has worn so rotten there is only the button-holes left."

Bad spelling, bad diction or bad writing does not go against you. Just tell me as bad as you like—I'll take it and like it.

Winners will be announced in the local papers and in our windows September 16.

RAILWAY WORK IS PROTEST SUBJECT

Canadian Press
Windsor, Ont., Aug. 31.—Charges that the Dominion Government and railway heads have refused to deal with protests against allowing unqualified or recently naturalized persons to hold jobs while Canadian and British-born workers are laid off because they have less seniority were made in resolutions presented to the convention of the Ontario command of the Canadian Legion here yesterday.

One resolution recommended that Legion make public the negotiation which have taken place between the Legion and railway, and continue efforts to secure "practical recognition of the strong moral right of ex-service men and Canadian and British-born citizens to employment in preference to unqualified or recently naturalized foreign-born persons, notwithstanding any agreement which may exist between the railway companies and labor unions."
